ASSOCIATION CANADIENNE DE MÉDECINE ORTHOPÉDIQUE

Dear Colleagues,

We are delighted to announce registration is OPEN for our 36th Annual CAOM Regenerative Medicine conference that can be accessed from our website (www.caom.ca). Our event will be held at the Marriott Delta Hotel in downtown Ottawa on Friday November 18th and Saturday November 19th, with pre-conference workshops available on November 17th.

Over our weekend, key topics will be addressed including prolotherapy, PRP, ozone, nutrition, manual medicine, the latest research in regenerative medicine, ultrasound-guided injections, perineural treatments, and nerve hydro-dissection for neuropathic pain to name a few.

The main conference will conclude on Saturday evening, November 19th, with a gala supper. This cost is included with a full conference registration and you are welcomed to bring a guest for an additional fee.

On our pre-conference day, we will offer two different hands-on practical workshops. Please see our website for further details on the following:

1. Dr. David Bowler and his team will host a Perineural Workshop for fifteen registrants.
2. Dr. Frank Johnson and his team from Sports Medicine Ultrasound Canada (SMUC) will host a Level 1 and 2 Ultrasound Course directed towards ultrasound-guided injections in the top twenty-five targets for fifteen registrants.

We also plan to utilize our pre-conference evening for a 2-hour headache and Botox workshop for registrants and a Durolane knee injection workshop at no additional cost. More information on this is forthcoming.

In conclusion, I wish to thank our Planning Committee for their time and continued support, to Sylvia Vespa our Event Manager who is overseeing our event and will keep us all organized. As well to Shauna Fraser who is navigating our social media campaigns on Instagram, Facebook, and Twitter, and lastly to POD Creative for helping us revitalize and refresh the CAOM website.

On behalf of the CAOM Team, we are always excited to see all the familiar faces and we are eager to meet all the new attendees this fall.

Kind regards,

Dr. Nico Basson MBChB,CCFP
